North Central Region Organic and Sustainable Ag Video Series

Introduction to Hoophouse/High Tunnel Production Systems
Via IP Video and Live Streaming Video
Thursday, March 20, 2008
7:00-9:30 EST

Purdue University, University of Illinois, The Ohio State University, and Michigan State University are pleased to offer an interactive video conference series presented by researchers, producers, and extension educators on Hoophouse/High Tunnel production systems.

To view the streaming event during the program, please go to: mms://video.dis.purdue.edu/agcomm

County Extension Office Viewing Sites: Hendricks, LaGrange, Monroe, and Pulaski
Purdue Viewing site: Pfendler Hall 241

This event will offer technical information, discussion and an opportunity for you to learn and participate via live IP Video or on-line video streaming. The program will also be archived for later viewing at: http://tristateorganic.info

Sponsored by:
North Central Region SARE (Sustainable Agriculture Research Education)
University of Illinois Extension
Purdue University Extension
Ohio State University Extension
Michigan State University Extension

PURDUE AGRICULTURE

It is the policy of the Purdue University Cooperative Extension Service that all persons have equal opportunity and access to its educational programs, services, activities, and facilities without regard to race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or ancestry, marital status, parental status, sexual orientation, disability or status as a veteran. Purdue University is an Affirmative Action institution. This material may be available in alternative formats.